

Actions4climatechange.org Website Privacy Statement and Disclaimer

(Last updated March 25, 2022)

Privacy:

Actions4climatechange.org is committed to protecting the privacy of individuals who register to participate in the Earth Day Challenge (“Participants”). This policy only applies to information we collect through this Website.

As a Participant, you may access, update, alter, or delete your basic profile information by editing your record or contacting actions4climatechange@gmail.com. The personal information collected, such as your email, is solely for the purpose of this Challenge and will not be displayed. The points you earn and your affiliation may be displayed for informational purposes to other Participants. Any data collected from you will be held in the strictest confidentiality and not shared with any third party.

We do NOT:

- collect your financial info, your exact physical address or phone number;
- disclose your Personal Information to a third party;
- have ads on the site;
- use Google Analytics.

Communication:

Actions4climatechange may use your Personal Information, such as your email, to communicate with you.

Children Under 13:

The Website is not intended for use by children under 13 years of age unless such use is part of a specific campaign for school-aged children or youth groups. If Actions4climatechange learns that we have collected or received personal data from children under 13 years of age without parental consent, we will delete that information.

Links:

Our website contains links to third-party websites. If you follow a link to any of these websites, please note that these websites may have their own privacy statements. We do not accept any responsibility or liability for policies of third-party websites.

Actions4climatechange is not responsible for the content of every page that you can link from here. While we will make every effort to ensure the accuracy of material they publish on the web site, opinions expressed on those website pages should be construed as those of its author, who is responsible for the information contained therein. If you have questions or comments about a particular page or document, please contact its author directly.